UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION
BEFORE THE ATOMIC SAFETY AND LICENSING BOARD

APPLICANT’S MOTION TO STRIKE PORTIONS OF PETITIONERS’ REPLY

On July 8, 2008, the Petitioners filed their “Reply of the Blue Ridge Environmental Defense [sic] League, Its Chapter Bellefonte Efficiency and Sustainability Team and the Southern Alliance for Clean Energy to the NRC Staff Answer to Petition for Intervention and the Applicant’s Answer Opposing Petition to Intervene, Both Dated July 1, 2008” (“Reply”).
Contrary to U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (“NRC” or “Commission”) regulations and past precedent, Petitioners’ Reply improperly includes new arguments, references, and attachments. In accordance with 10 C.F.R. § 2.323, the Tennessee Valley Authority (“TVA”), applicant in the above-captioned matter, hereby files this motion to strike\(^1\) those portions of the Petitioners’ Reply that contain the new information.

I. BACKGROUND

Petitioners filed their “Petition for Intervention and Request for Hearing by the Bellefonte Efficiency and Sustainability Team, the Blue Ridge Environmental Defense League and the Southern Alliance for Clean Energy” (“Petition”) on June 7, 2008 and a Supplemental Petition

\(^1\) As required by 10 C.F.R. § 2.323(b), counsel for TVA contacted Mr. Zeller, the representative for the Petitioners, in an attempt to resolve the issues in this Motion. Mr. Zeller did not agree to the relief requested in this Motion. Counsel for the NRC staff has stated that it plans to file an answer to this Motion. on June 26, 2008. In response, the NRC staff filed the “NRC Staff Answer to ‘Petition for Intervention and Request for Hearing by the Bellefonte Efficiency and Sustainability Team, the Blue Ridge Environmental Defense League and the Southern Alliance for Clean Energy,’” and TVA filed the “Applicant’s Answer Opposing Petition to Intervene,” both on July 1, 2008.
These answers both oppose admission of all of Petitioners’ proffered contentions. On July 8, 2008, the Petitioners filed their Reply to the NRC staff’s and TVA’s answers. As discussed in Section III below, Petitioners’ Reply contains extensive new arguments, references, and attachments not contained in their Petition.2

II. LEGAL STANDARD

A reply is intended to give a petitioner an opportunity to address arguments raised in the opposing parties’ answers. A reply may not be used as a vehicle to introduce new arguments or support, may not expand the scope of arguments set forth in the original petition, and may not attempt to cure an otherwise deficient contention.3 As the Commission has stated:

It is well established in NRC proceedings that a reply cannot expand the scope of the arguments set forth in the original hearing request. Replies must focus narrowly on the legal or factual arguments first presented in the original petition or raised in the answers to it. New bases for a contention cannot be introduced in a reply brief, or any other time after the date the original

2 Furthermore, TVA believes that the new arguments, references, and attachments do not provide an adequate basis for an admissible contention. Therefore, if the Licensing Board decides to consider the new arguments, references, and attachments raised in the Reply, TVA requests an opportunity to file a response.

3 See Entergy Nuclear Vt. Yankee, LLC (Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Station), LBP-06-20, 64 NRC 131, 182, 198-99 (2006) (granting in part a motion to strike and finding that petitioners impermissibly “expand[ed] their arguments” by filing a second declaration from their expert in a reply brief that provided additional detail regarding the proposed contention). The licensing board in the same proceeding struck all portions of the petitioners’ expert’s second declaration, finding that these portions of the reply and its supporting documents “include[d] new arguments and factual information that were not included in the initial petition and do not directly address challenges in the answers, and that therefore exceed the permissible scope of a reply.” Id. at 191; see also Nuclear Mgmt. Co., LLC (Palisades Nuclear Plant), LBP-06-10, 63 NRC 314, 351-63 (2006), aff’d CLI-06-17, 63 NRC 727 (2006) (the licensing board did not consider references to various documents identified in a petitioner’s reply that were not included in the original petition).
contentions are due, unless the petitioner meets the late-filing criteria set forth in 10 C.F.R. § 2.309(c), (f)(2).

The Commission’s prohibition on new arguments in replies is rooted in the Commission’s interest in conducting adjudicatory hearings efficiently and on basic principles of fairness. The Commission has recognized that “[a]s we face an increasing adjudicatory docket, the need for parties to adhere to our pleading standards and for the Board to enforce those standards are paramount.” It has further stated that

NRC contention admissibility and timeliness requirements demand a level of discipline and preparedness on the part of petitioners. But there would be no end to NRC licensing proceedings if petitioners could disregard our timeliness requirements every time they “realize[d] . . . that maybe there was something after all to a challenge it either originally opted not to make or which simply did not occur to it at the outset.”

Accordingly, a petitioner must include all of its arguments and claims in its initial filing. Allowing a party to amend or supplement its pleadings in reply to the applicant’s or staff’s answers would run afoul of the Commission’s clear directives:

Allowing contentions to be added, amended, or supplemented at any time would defeat the purpose of the specific contention requirements . . . by permitting the intervenor to initially file vague, unsupported, and generalized allegations and simply recast, support, or cure them later. The Commission has made numerous efforts over the years to avoid unnecessary delays and increase the efficiency of NRC adjudication and our contention standards are a cornerstone of that effort.

Moreover, because NRC regulations do not allow the applicant to respond to a petitioner’s reply, principles of fairness mandate that a petitioner restrict its reply brief to addressing issues

\textbf{III. BASES FOR MOTION TO STRIKE}

As detailed in the following table, Petitioners’ Reply contains numerous new arguments, references, and attachments.

<tr>
<th>Location of New Information in the Reply</th>
<th>Description of New Information</th>
</tr>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Contention MISC-A (Former Contention 1)</td>
<td>This section of the Reply provides new information and arguments regarding the economics of nuclear power plants. In particular, the Reply provides information related to the costs of construction and power from nuclear plants, and argues that certain alternatives are economically preferable. None of the cost information was included in Contention MISC-A, and the argument related to alternatives was not contained in the original contention, which addresses general welfare, standard of living, and free competition; hardware failures; human factors; and NRC independence. \textit{See} Petition at 11-19.</td>

\textsuperscript{8} Under 10 C.F.R. § 2.309(h)(3), an applicant/licensee is precluded from filing an answer to a petitioner’s reply. TVA has no opportunity to respond to the new information provided by the Petitioners.

The Licensing Board should strike these new arguments, references, and attachments that Petitioners impermissibly raise for the first time in their Reply. These portions of Petitioners’ Reply fail to “focus narrowly on the legal or factual arguments first presented in the original petition or raised in answers to it.” Instead, these portions of the Petitioners’ Reply impermissibly attempt to expand the scope of the contentions in the Petition and provide new bases and supporting material for the contentions, without addressing the criteria for late-filed contentions and amended contentions in 10 C.F.R. § 2.309(c) and (f)(2). Petitioners cannot now try to provide additional information to remedy the defects in their original contentions. Additionally, much of this information is not “narrowly focused on the legal or logical arguments presented in the applicant/licensee or NRC staff answer.”\(^\text{14}\) Instead, Petitioners provide new information in their Reply, to which TVA and the NRC staff are not allowed to respond. Accordingly, the new arguments, references, and attachments should be stricken.

IV. CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the Licensing Board should strike the new arguments, references, and attachments impermissibly provided in Petitioners’ Reply.
